Thoughts From Our Show

Thank you, CIKC, for the lovely memorial page you had for Larry. Jeff gave me a new poster to have framed. I bought the frame earlier today and will work on it soon.

Thanks to all of you who supported the show—either by being physically present, by working, by donating a trophy, or by having us on your mind wherever you were doing whatever had to be done.

Having been a caregiver, I realize that is one of the worst and hardest jobs there is. I don't wish it on anyone. Colleen, I wish you and your family well. I remember all those times you and I worked the garbage detail with Larry at Progress City and how we'd have to hose ourselves off after riding through the muddy fields. It's amazing how clean he usually was while we looked as if we'd been through the ringer.

Although it was chilly at times, it was bearable. You couldn't hear the rain pounding on the roofs, nor did doors fly open due to the wind. In fact, it wasn't until someone mentioned that it was raining out that most of us realized it was. Of course, once the people working on the Horse Coliseum stopped for the day, it was more obvious. The lighting inside also made it less gloomy than it would have been in Decatur.

I'm sorry I wasn't there to help set up (I was the driver for someone who needed one for an appointment that had been changed from Wednesday to Thursday). I was planning to return for the show on Sunday, but I woke up that morning to find that my body said otherwise. Hopefully, I'll get a shot in the knee or hip or wherever to help tide me over when I see the orthopedic surgeon on the 14th—the earliest I could get in and that time was only available because someone cancelled while I was getting scheduled. Sometimes we get lucky; other times we don't.

Again, thank you for a good show.

~Pat Brown
